

Draft PDP

In the future I have to spend more time on my reflecting skills. This is a very important area of the ID study and as my feedback showed I need to improve this.

- My plan is to make a fixed table that really clarifies for me what I have to cover for a good reflection. In this way I always have a proper reflection.

In my next project I need to spend more time user focus and perspective. In my assignment DG590 I did some user testing but this was not in the way I want to do this.

- The next project I will make this my main competency were I will focus on. I also am going to find an assignment that can help me with this competency.

I got feedback that my report and my showcase are very straight forward. I am planning taking a course or ask someone that I know to teach me about programs that can help me make more attractive reports. Also my showcase I am planning to write this myself and no use a fixed template from a website because this leaves not must space for my own web design.

- Make my own showcase
- Learning to make better layout for reports

My coach told me that I can draw and have skills for this. If the chance occurs I would like to do an assignment to improve this.

'Make more and bigger sketches, you have the skills to do that. As a designer you are supposed to work visually to make things simple and easy to understand.' Coach: Jeroen Thoolen

As I mentioned in my showcase I can be more active in discussions. I tend to stay a bit on the background and only participate when I am asked a question. If I don't do this the chances are that people think that I don't really care about the lecture.
